First use quotation marks: the first use is to get an entire phrase so you would put the phrase in quotes and it looks for exactly that. You can have multiple quoted phrases in the search.

We can take out words by putting a minus sign in front of a word which removes that word from the site. Use a + sign to add words to the search.

Wild card operator is * and can be used to put words in specific word order.

Advanced search tab: This is the gear which gets you to advanced search. Here you can be lead through specific search options. This is an easy way to search specific sites, file types, reading level, when published, material not copy protected, in titles, pages similar to websites.
